

Leap Year Revision Report

Minor revisions needed means that the work is mostly right but has some amendable flaw. You have three business days from the evaluation to address the mistake and resubmit it along with a revision report. The revision report must clearly address two things:

- An explanation of the mistake from the original submission, why it was a mistake, and the thinking process that led to it.
- An explanation of the fix, including how your understanding has improved by making the revision.

The mistake I made when I first submitted the leap year project was that I didn't finish it due to my flutter not being installed correctly. I decided that submitting my unfinished work was better than just turning it in late.

To fix my error, I got help from Spencer to download Flutter correctly. After getting Flutter installed correctly, I was able to compile the code, see the warnings on my code, and then fix all the errors until it worked the way I wanted it too. My understanding improved on how to correctly set-up Flutter. When working through my code, my understanding of basic dart code had also improved.
